

PSYCHOLOGY OF MUSIC

MUS 701 B Spring 2008

Extension (CRN 3060)

also MUS 701B Spring 2008 (CRN 89047)

is an online graduate course for Musicians, Special Educators,
Psychologists, Doctors, Nurses and other Health Care professionals.

This special on-line learning opportunity is available to you through the
UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII AT MANOA
Spring Semester 2008, January 14 – May 16
Taught by Dr. Arthur Harvey
Music Professor-Author
Neuromusicology Researcher-Performer

MUS 701 B (CRN 3060/89047) ...Psychology of Music will explore the many areas of research that provide insight into the ways that music affects human behavior. Through extensive readings, media and online discussions, participants will examine diverse disciplines and their inter-relationships that constitute the field of Psychology of Music . The culminating project for each student will be to develop a multi-media presentation focusing on one particular area of study.

This course offers Three Graduate Credits

MUS 701 B (CRN 3060/89047)

Topics will include an introduction to...

Neuromusicology – Acoustics - Psychoacoustics - Auditory Processing

Psychology - Physiology - Influence of Music on Human Behavior

Hearing – Mozart Effect – Synesthesia – Musical Development – Tomatis Effect

Music Therapy – Suggestopedia – MusicMedicine – Music & Immunity

Music and Autism – Music and Alzheimers – Music and ADHD

Sound Therapy – Stress Management– Music Intelligence,,,and other topics.

To register for MUS 701B, Psychology of Music, or for further information about the course, contact Dr. Harvey at aharvey@hawaii.edu or by Cell at 808 352-6088...as well as for approval code

To contact UHM for registration process, use URL

www.myuhinfo.hawaii.edu/page/home

